STANDARD OF ABILITY.

The Class of Men to Whom We Owe the Improvements of the Age.

We commend the following, from the Stationary Engineer, to all young people who wish to succeed in any vocation in life, no matter what, but it applies more especially to the mechanical trades:

"When a young man starts out to learn his trade and goes into a shop, totally uneducated in the manual performance of his duties in the new field of life on which he is entering, it is important that he should bear in mind this fact, viz: That his position, so far as it relates to himself, is intrinsically an educational one, as much so as in the school or college from which he may have recently graduated. The simple performance of so many hours' work per day, while it has a certain financial measure of value to the employer, has a value to himself when properly considered that is greater than can be measured in currency. As his progress and standing in the school depend on the thorough mental understanding of each progressive step he took, so, only in a more material sense, his advance in mechanical skill and knowledge is dependent on his thoroughly understanding not only the routine detail of his work, but the why and wherefore of each operation. There always has been, and probably always will be, two classes of mechanics—those who stand at their bench and go through the manual motions of their work like automatic machines, with little more conception of why the results are as they are; and the other, that class of men who make no moves without knowing why and how results are obtained, and the relative importance of each step. This is the mechanical education that counts, the education that schools the mind to a clear comprehension of principles, equally with details, and leads unfailingly to that higher field where skill, diligence and marked ability find their natural level. The young man who, on beginning his mechanical education, realizes and acts upon these truths, will develop that ability which is not gauged by mere manual dexterity, but rather that which, when in later years he may be called to design, lay out, and superintend the work of others, will enable him to credibly fill the position. Such positions come to those who bring thought and brains as well as manual dexterity to assist them in their work. To such men we owe the improvements of the age in every branch of mechanics."

ENGLAND AND AMERICA.

Some of the Differences Between John Bull and Brother Jonathan.

Baggage is "luggage" in England, writes Preston Mulford in the Rochester Herald.
No livery stables; instead, sign of "cars on hire." No cars on railroad; all "coaches." No rails; all "metals." No conductor; instead, "guard." No depots; all stations.
No boots; all galoshes. No street-cars; all trams. No stoves. No sequitoes. Very improper to allude to insect on plant or elsewhere as a bug. Bugs in Britain belong only in beds. In England's English "to get mad" means instantly. They get angry; never mad. A roasting-piece of beef is a "joint." Things are never "fixed" in America; they are arranged. The English never "guess," "reckon" or "calculate;" these words belong to American-English. Wheat, oats, rye, barley, all go by the name of "corn;" corn itself almost unknown. No wharves; all docks or piers.
Most pies are "tarts." Regular fruit pies baked in deeper dishes than ours; crust only at top.

Twenty millions or more people in Britain eat hearty supper at night. Table spread often for dinner. Roast meat, possibly and porter. No indigestion follows; never think of it. No green corn. No watermelons. No pork and beans. No buckwheat cakes. No succotash. No oysters cooked in a la stew, fry, roast, broil, or steamed. No oysters save raw or in "petties." No claims at all. No pumpkin pie. No desert pies made in our fashion; very small affairs in small dishes. Plenty of cookies; miserable apology for our round clam. Oysters thick; not savory to American taste; kept at shop in vats of fresh water. Cod and ling fish, twenty-five cents a pound. Lobsters very high-priced. Sole, sprat, herring and other fish very cheap.
No porgies. No shad. No bluefish. Plenty of mackerel. Yarmouth bloaters in early summer; never found in perfection in this country; superb relish during that time.
Are always in decompose after being caught until slight blast sets in; hence name "bloaters"; afterward lightly dipped in salt and water; then briefly and delicately smoked; then broiled. Flavor so acquired doesn't last over four days; salt strikes it afterward. Peas, cabbages, beans and turnips more tender than ours; boil tender in less time. White beans called "harvest beans." Yellow turnips not eaten; deemed fit only for sheep.

A Nation's Eyes and Hair.

M. Topinard has been making a statistical inquiry into the colors of the eyes and hair in France, and from his 180,000 observations he deduces many interesting results, one of the most curious being that where the race is formed from a mixture of blondes and brunettes the hereditary blonde coloring comes out in the eyes, and the brunettine reappears in the hair. To this tendency, probably, is to be attributed the rarity of a combination of light hair and dark eyes.
Several observers have asserted that the American people, who are pre-eminently a mixed race, are becoming a dark-haired and blue-eyed nation, and if this be true, such a development must be owing to the working of the law formulated by M. Topinard.

JOTTINGS.

That fresh dried beef kept by E. C. Leadbetter is excellent.

Blank books of all sizes and styles, either single or in complete sets, at C. A. Thurston's news depot.

Go to George Becker's Granite Saloon for a cool drink of either Pacific or Fredericksburg beer, and a nice hot soup lunch.

His thirty years of experience as a hotel keeper, enables W. R. Chamberlain of the Riverside Hotel to anticipate the wants of all patrons.

Instead of dealing with irresponsible outside agents, those desiring to purchase a first class piano or organ should examine C. J. Brookins' stock and prices.

Leave your orders at S. L. Coburn's for a case of John Weiland's bottled beer, just what you want to counteract the effects of bad water and the hot weather.

This is the time of the year when you want to lay in a yearly supply of J. P. Aiken's dry firewood, cut any length desired, and delivered in any part of the town.

It is noticeable that those who take their Boca and Sacramento beer and noon lunches at J. J. Becker's are never heard to complain of the depressing heat experienced in other localities.

A GENEROUS MAN.

Matt McCabe, of New Brunswick, Ill., offers to pay five dollars to any person troubled with bloody flux, who will take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy according to directions and does not get well in the shortest possible time. One-half of the 25-cent bottle of this remedy cured him of bloody flux, after he had tried other medicines and the prescriptions of physicians without benefit. Mr. McCabe is perfectly safe in making this offer, as more than a thousand bottles of this remedy are sold each day and it has never been known to fail in any case of colic, cholera morbus, dysentery, diarrhoea or bloody flux, when the plain printed directions were followed. For sale by Osburn & Shoe-maker.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklin's Kidney and Bladder Pills, and have never had a remedy that sold as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. ## DIED ON THE DESERT.

A Man Perishes Near Granite Creek Ranch.

From Louis Dean, who arrived Wednesday evening from his Deep-Hole and Granite Creek stock ranch, a GAZETTE reporter learns that a man by the name of Long, late of Roseburg, Oregon, who had been prospecting in the vicinity of Rabbit Hole Springs, and who had started with an emigrant for Granite Creek station, but who had left his traveling partner to take a shorter cut, was found about the middle of last month within half a mile of the ranch, where he had evidently perished for the want of water, and where he had lain for two weeks. This would make the time of his death about the last of June. When within two miles of the ranch the unfortunate man met a teamster, who carefully directed him how to reach the house, but he evidently became partially demented, for he only proceeded about a mile and a half after receiving his directions. The manner in which he had torn up the ground where the body was found showed that he must have died in terrible agony. Deceased had told the man with whom he had been traveling what his name was and where he was from. He was a very large man and must have weighed 250 pounds; and he had given his age as being 72 years. Among the effects of the dead man's pockets was the address of J. M. Mott, No. 1721 Seventh Street, Oakland, Cal.; also a child's gold ring containing the initials "L. H. L." on the inside.

It is hoped the above may meet the eye of those interested in learning the terrible fate of their unfortunate relative or friend.

THE UNION PACIFIC.

Still Making Surveys Toward the West.

The Pioche Record contains the following railroad news: Railroad matters have been the subject of much talk during the week, a general interest being manifested in the movements of the parties reported as being at Milford last week. It is now learned from a reliable source that a party of seventeen civil engineers in the employ of the Union Pacific Company is now making a location survey of a railway from Milford southeast to Sheep Springs, a point about twenty miles southeast from Pioche. A similar party arrived at Sheep Springs on Wednesday, and they are to make the location survey of the next section. The road will pass within a few miles of this town, being on the surveys made last year. It looks now as though real business had begun, as grading can begin over the survey now being made.

Von Schmidt's Steel Being Returned.

The Carson Tribune says: The California civil engineers, employed in surveying the boundary line between Nevada and California, have about completed their labors. It is reported at the lake, on good authority, that the line established by Von Schmidt is a long way east of that established by the United States survey, and that the monument now marking the boundary between the two States, erected near the town of Bijon on the Von Schmidt line, will be moved west to Meyer's, on the Placerville wagon road, near the foot of Lake Valley. This will give about the entire area of Lake Tahoe to Nevada.

Both Sides.

Wilbur F. Crafts, Field Secretary of the American Sabbath Union, will speak on the subject of "Sunday Work or Sabbath Rest," this evening at the M. E. Church. Admission, free; collection.

A free lecture will be given in McKissick's Opera House Saturday night, August 3d, at 8 o'clock, against a national Sunday law, in answer to recent petitions, as well as local and other lectures. Everybody is invited to attend.

Slightly Incorrect.

The Lassen county narrow-gauge railroad has put on a construction force, after an illness of about two years. The road is being extended toward Cedarville, in Surprise Valley, Modoc county.—Enterprise.

It has been but ten months since they ceased the work of construction, and no force has been put on to push the road further north.

A Shotgun Title.

W. E. Price, through his attorney, W. M. Boardman, has commenced suit against the Virginia and Gold Hill Water Company for diverting water from the source from which Price has been supplied for the past fourteen years. The Water Company is said to hold the fort by main force and shot-guns.

Some Stringent Provisions.

The Idaho Constitutional Convention, in its framed provisions, excludes polygamists and those who believe in polygamy and plural marriages, and disfranchises all Mormons. Eight hours shall constitute a day's labor on public works. The Capital is located at Boise City for twenty years.

A Solid Firm.

A syndicate of mining capitalists, among whom are D. O. Mills, Frank Newlands, Archibald Farrington and others, have purchased the Union group of mines in Cerro Gordo, Inyo county, Cal., and will operate them on a grand scale. The mines have heretofore yielded $15,000,000.

Fine Hay Crops.

Louis Dean informs the GAZETTE that his alfalfa crop on his Deep-Hole ranch will aggregate 800 tons, in addition to which he cut 200 tons of grass hay and raised 1,500 bushels of oats.

Made a Success of It.

Ten days ago, at Victoria, B. C., H. McNabb, a steward, drove a couple of needles toward his heart. A doctor extracted one, but could not find the other. He died suddenly Wednesday.

FOREST FIRES.

The Logging and Wood Camps in Great Peril.

The Truckee Republican of the 31st ult. says: Last Monday a tramp built a fire near the railroad below Boca and went off and left it burning. Owing to the dry condition of the country it spread in all directions and finally got into the timber of the Boca Mill Company. It reached mammoth proportions and threatened destruction to everything in its path. Yesterday the mill shut down and all hands went out to fight the flames. Telegrams were sent to Truckee and a number of men went down to assist in the work. The fire was working its way towards the logging camps of the Boca Mill Company and the wood camps of Champion and Stewart. At last accounts a hundred men were fighting the fire, and had succeeded in checking its course, although by no means subdued. It has already destroyed some timber, but it is thought that it will now be controlled. All day yesterday the smoke to the eastward was so dense that it was impossible to see the Washoe mountains.

There are other fires in the mountains, and before the summer is over there is liable to be great damage done. The country is unusually dry and it behooves those having timber interests to be extremely vigilant.

LATER.—This afternoon the report is that the fire has a new start and is again being under control, except on one side, where the men are working hard to keep it from destroying railroad wood. The fire now covers the country for a distance of seven miles along the ridge east of Boca, and is doing incalculable damage. It will take a heavy rainstorm to extinguish it.

SWALM SENTENCED.

Another Leaf in the History of the McDonald Divorce Suit.

Seneca Swalm, who mixed himself up with the McDonald divorce suit in San Francisco two years ago, and who is said to have a liking for Clara Belle, has been sentenced to seven years at hard labor at San Quentin. The GAZETTE believes Mrs. McDonald to be a pure woman, notwithstanding the McDonalds—old and young—have tried to blacken her character. They are rich, but that is all. A man who will put his wife into the slum as young McDonald has, no matter what the circumstances were, is too low to live, and as far as the old man goes, it is a pity that Clara Belle did not wipe him from the face of the earth at the time she had him down in the Baldwin Hotel. The writer has known Mrs. McDonald from childhood and believes her to be a good woman—far too good to associate with the McDonald cattle.

A. ## A VIRULENT DISEASE.

Scarlet Fever Germs Retained in a Book for Twenty-Six Years.

The imperative need of burning everything that cannot be thoroughly disinfected which a scarlet fever patient has used is fully illustrated by the following incident, when that dread disease was undoubtedly communicated by a book which had been carefully laid by for twenty-six years. The Boston Post says: In 1846 a boy of eight years, the brother of the narrator's wife, was taken down with scarlet fever and died. One of the principal amusements of his illness had been looking over a large picture book. After his death this, with several other useful playthings, was packed away in a trunk. Twenty-six years later, in 1872, the sister-in-law of the editor took this trunk with her on a journey which she made to England, where he was then residing. The trunk was opened the second day after its arrival, and the picture book was taken out and presented to the editor's two-year-old son. During the next fortnight the little fellow was attacked by scarlet fever. It was a wonder to the doctors who were called in consultation how the disease had been contracted, as there had been no scarlet fever in the town for years. At last it occurred to the editor that the picture book might have transmitted the disease, and the medical men in attendance, on being told the facts connected with it, agreed that it had retained the poison for twenty-six years and communicated it to the child.

Tell the Plain Truth.

Never tell a local editor, says an exchange, that you have "more papers than you can read." Just come out with the truth. Say you borrow the local paper of your neighbor. Say that you are too confounded mean to take the paper, pay for it and read it like an honest man. Say that you are too stingy to pay for that which you can borrow. This would come near the truth and as is written that "an honest confession is good for the soul," you would certainly enjoy life much better after having made such a confession.

Disraeli's Dude Costume.

One of the most curious passages in Motley's very bright and interesting letters is the account, as given by Lady Dufferin, of Mr. Disraeli's attire when he first entered London society. She met him at a large dinner party, and this was his costume: "He wore a black velvet coat lined with satin, purple trousers with a gold band running down the outside seam, a scarlet waistcoat, long lace ruffles running down to the tips of his fingers, white gloves, with several brilliant rings on them, and long black ringlets rippling down upon his shoulders."

A Financial Failure.

The monetary success of the Rosa Parks, in its work on the old barkentine Natalia, the vessel that conveyed Napoleon I from the Island of Elba to France in 1815, and was afterward sold to the Mexican Government, and used as a revenue boat, and finally wrecked in Monterey Harbor in 1834, has not been very flattering, and the work will probably be given up this week.

A Disastrous Collision.

Mrs. C. W. Barber, while driving a buggy, attempted to cross the San Francisco and Northern Pacific Railroad track near Santa Rosa, Cal., last Wednesday. The right leg of her 7-year old son was fractured; her head was cut and she was bruised about the hips. The horse's legs were cut off and the buggy was smashed to pieces.

First a Pigmy—Then a Giant.

We are too apt to regard a small ailment such as we would some pigmy, unimportant and of no consequence. We ignore the fact that it grows prodigiously, strengthens in proportion, and begets evil progeny. A fit of indigestion, a slight bilious attack, sensations of unrest and languor when the system should have been braced by recent sleep, unaccountable nervousness, inactivity of the kidneys or bladder—what are these but the precursors of obstinate and serious bodily disturbance? In either of the above emergencies, common sense and experience unite in indicating Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the best preventive. Particularly should its use be prompt when the languor, yawning, chills, coming down the back, and feverishness that precede a malarial attack, manifest themselves. Impudent rheumatism grows apace. Don't neglect it, go with constipation and debility.

The Bulletin is the leading evening journal in circulation and influence on the Pacific coast. It is distinguished for the brilliancy of its editorial matter, accuracy and completeness of its local news, reviews of current literature and art, and extent of foreign news, while it is the recognized authority in all financial and trade circles. The Daily Bulletin is the only newspaper in California that publishes in extenso the decisions of the Supreme Court.

Owing to the difference in time between San Francisco and the principal news centers in the East, the world's news of each day is furnished by the Bulletin 12 hours in advance of the morning papers.
The Weekly Bulletin is a handsome 12-page, 36-column paper, issued every Wednesday morning—the largest and best weekly published in the West. It furnishes the latest and most reliable local news and market quotations, and gives special attention to agricultural and horticultural news, and is in every respect a first-class family paper, appealing to the interest of every member of the household. The Semi-Weekly Bulletin is the regular Weekly Bulletin and Friday's issue of each week.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

Forces Which the European Powers May Summon to Battle.
It is evident that the days of war are drawing near in Europe, says the New York Graphic. What a terrible struggle it promises to be! A match may blow up a magazine, a far explode dynamite, and a drunken quarrel on a frontier threatens to ignite the train of destruction.

France is quiet. The Polish chiefs who have so long resided in Paris have removed to Vienna. Montenegro, the stormy petrel of Russian intrigues against European Turkey, is in another row with the Balkan representatives. The Serbian King, Milan, is on a debauch, which means that he is in Austrian control, while his quasi-wife, Queen Nathalie, is away from Belgrade and nearer to Russian influences.
Stepniak, the Russian exile, who leads all exterior movements of the revolutionists against the Czar, remains in London, instead of coming to America, as he desired. His reasons for doing so are obvious to students of the European underworld. Russia itself, like Germany, is a vast military camp, but, unlike the latter, is in a large degree all on fire.

It will be worth while to see what a conflict means. Napoleon said Cossack or Republican. Carnot, as President of the French Republic, has the tradition of "Ca-ira" in his blood, and even wealth and scholarship may not keep it down and quiet.
Germany wants another army. "If General MacIver is right that means the capture of Conrad and Lithuania, Russia's Baltic provinces. But apart from aggression it may be well to inquire what it is Bismarck really has to meet in the event of war.
France and the "Revue" is a quantity to be considered even though she be apparently as uncertain as that involved in an attempt to square the circle.

Russia, according to the latest figures, has an active army of 43,410 officers, 1,989, 468 in rank and file, 318,532 horses and 3,794 guns. The reserves of the empire consist of 3,041,528 in the rank and file, with 518,532 horses and 3,989 guns. This is a total of 5,322,000 men. The cavalry figures do not show the effective strength of Russia in that arm. She may easily add half a million of mounted effective to the number given above. Take her forces all through.
Russia can mobilize over three million of men, of whom one-third may be valuable as cavalry or infantry. In the machine perfection of staff, administration and logistics, outside of cavalry raiding, Russia will not be equal to Germany.

France, her only possible ally, outside of Greece and Montenegro, can place in the field an active army of 30,527 officers, 1,900, 000 in rank and file, and a reserve of 30,970 officers and 1,412,000 rank and file, making a total war force of 4,492,500 men, officered by 78,497, and having 374,000 horses and 6,630 guns.

Against this possible array of over 8,000, 000 Russian and French soldiers, of which at least 1,700,000 are reported to be cavalry, backed by 10,000 guns or field artillery, Germany presents an active army of 25,967 officers, 1,212,977 in rank and file, 336,388 horses, and 3,845 guns. Her present reserves number 16,308 officers, 738,614 in rank and file, with 40,340 horses and 576 guns, making a total of 30,100 officers, 2,923,383 rank and file, 338,088 horses, and 4,494 guns. With the 700,000 additional levies called for by the Reichstag, the German imperial army will number, officers and men, about 2,800,000, with not less than 430,000 horses and over 5,000 guns.

Her allies will bring the following forces into operation:
—Hungary's army, active and reserve, numbers 52,250 officers and 1,813,000 of rank and file, with 171,048 horses and 1,500 guns. Italy can send to the field or mobilize an army of 24,708 officers and 2,377, 380 of rank and file, with 62,400 horses and 780 guns.

This is a total for Russia and France of 400,000 officers and 8,641,405 rank and file, with 692,832 horses and 10,600 guns.
For Germany, Italy and Austria-Hungary a force is shown of 631,432 men, with 187, 060 officers at least. When Germany's 700, 000 new levies are added it will make an allied force of 6,914,243, without the officers.
There will be in the three armies 630,116 horses and 6,494 guns.

The five powers that it is supposed may be directly involved will thus be able to command united forces amounting on the side of Russia and France to 9,000,000 officers and men, while the three allies opposing them will have armies of 7,000,000. There will be 17,000 guns and at least 1,300,000 horses in the field.

But this is not all. The allies of Central Europe may properly count on Serbia and Turkey, and probably Roumania when the pinch comes. Bulgaria will not be insignificant either as a make-weight. They will stand as follows:

	Cavalry	Infantry	Artillery	Horses	Guns
Turkey	6,000	102,525	718,928	121,600	1,100
Serbia	200	6,620	121,600	77,600	700
Roumania	200	8,800	77,600	120,500	700
Bulgaria	170	8,800	120,500	120,500	700
Total	6,370	126,745	1,039,328	340,700	2,800

This is in itself a large army, and it is in the main an exceptionally good one also.
Russia may have an addition, perhaps, of fighters from Greece and Montenegro, if the struggle becomes severe, or perhaps 125,000 good partisan fighters. It will thus be seen that the powers presumed to be directly involved amount on their rolls to an army—active and reserve—of over eight-teen millions of men, with at least twenty-two thousand pieces of artillery, mostly field. Besides, there are the naval forces, which stand as follows:

Germany, active and reserve	6,414
Austria-Hungary, active and reserve	16,772
Italy, active and reserve	31,349
Total	54,535

France, active and reserve 294,220 || Russia, active and reserve | 58,800 |
Total	384,999
Turkey has a naval force in men of 36,516.
Russia uses the Berdan and France the Grauf rifles; Germany has the Mauser, Austria the Mannlicher, and Italy the Vottelle —all of them magazine guns. The French gun is still considered the best of repeating rifles.

Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy claim an arms-bearing population of 29, 000,000. Russia one in Europe of 21,900,000, and France 9,550,000. In that regard the strains are equal. The story is an awful one when coolly examined.

Marrying for Money.
The New York Sun, which is fond of making surprising statements, says: "We do not believe that a marriage purely for money ever really happened." The daughter of a distinguished Massachusetts author married one of the wealthiest men in Rhode Island, a member of one of the ruling families of the State, when he was far advanced in consumption. The story goes that when the young woman announced her engagement to a friend the latter, referring to the proposed bride, exclaimed: "Why, he won't live to get across the ocean!"
"If he'll only live to get up to the altar that is all I will ask!" is reported to have been the placid response of the prospective bride.

STUDENTS IN GERMANY.

Interesting Statistics Concerning Their Work and Studies.
The following interesting statistics occur in an article on "Student Life in Germany," by Mr. F. M. Warren, in the Chautauquan:
"We find in the twenty schools of Germany some twenty-six thousand students, of whom over twelve hundred are foreigners, the Russians leading, closely pressed by the Swiss, Austrians and Americans, in numbers that do not vary far from two hundred for each nation. As might be supposed, the largest towns contain the largest institutions. The modern university, like the medieval, appears to demand the multiplicity of industrial life. The University of Berlin numbers over five thousand students, those of Leipzig and Munich more than three thousand each. To resist this tendency toward the distinctively urban foundations, favored to the utmost by states which they peculiarly represent, the institutions of the smaller central powers, and those less fostered by the pride of dynasty exert themselves to excel in some one specialty—in which effort they are often aided by tradition and habit. Thus, in 1887, in spite of the greatly superior aggregate of the three universities noted above, certain of the provincial faculties have successfully maintained, not merely a relative, but even an absolute pre-eminence. The order of attendance in theology (both Protestant and Catholic faculties being reckoned together, when in the same institution) was, Berlin (734), Leipzig (679), Halle (598), Tubingen (514). In law, the capitals of the largest two States come first, Berlin (1,283), Munich (1,130), followed by Leipzig (738), and Tubingen, a bad fourth (348). In medicine, the capitals again lead, but in reversed order: Munich (1,350), Berlin (1,307), Wurzburg, however, has here a specialty; (935), which puts her ahead of Leipzig (781). In philosophy, Berlin (1,884) and Leipzig (1,040) leave the others far in the rear."

TRUE LOVE REWARDED.
How a Kansas Farmer Won a Pretty Yankee Lass.
A correspondent of the New York Sun, writing from Shelton, Conn., says that among the many pretty girls who assist in making pins in the Howe pin factory in that village was Miss Carrie F. Daines. One day, several years ago, Miss Daines, in a spirit of mischief, joined with other girls in writing their names and addresses on the papers upon which pins are stuck. Some six months after Miss Daines received a letter from a farmer in Kansas. He asked Miss Daines to correspond with him. Miss Daines flatly refused. She was satisfied with her lot. There were plenty of young men in her circle of society, and when her time came, if ever it did, she would marry some one she knew. But Mr. Pillsbury possessed the gift of most Western men, and soon after her refusal to open a correspondence Mr. Pillsbury appeared in Shelton. He brought with him credentials as to his respectability and standing, sought an introduction to Miss Daines, and, after a brief courtship, he asked her to marry him. Miss Daines liked the young man, but she was not in love with him, and so refused the good offer the Kansas farmer made her.
Disheartened, Mr. Pillsbury went home.
In a few months he met another Connecticut girl, and finally married her. The marriage was a happy one, but after a few months the bride died, and Mr. Pillsbury was more determined than ever to get his first love, the pretty Shelton pin-maker. He wrote to her again, telling her of his loss, and asked her to correspond with him. She again refused, but her refusal was worded in so sympathetic a manner that he became more than ever determined.
He accordingly came to Shelton again and, nothing daunted, began a most persistent wooing. At first he met with no encouragement, but his earnestness and his voice began to thaw out the heart of the Yankee lass, and after a time Mr. Pillsbury's pluck won her consent.
A few days ago Rev. J. G. Dittmars, pastor of the Baptist church, united the persistent Pillsbury to his sweetheart, and they have gone to their far Western home.

Cholera in Michigan.

Dr. F. D. Larke, of Rogers City, Michigan, says the epidemic of last year in Presque Isle county, in which so many persons lost their lives, was cholera dysentery instead of cholera as first reported. He used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says: "It succeeded, where all other remedies failed. Not a single case was lost in which it was used.
His remedy is the most reliable and most successful medicine known for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery, diarrhoea and bloody flux. Twenty-five Oregon is one of the most productive States in the Union. Its vast mineral regions contain gold, silver, copper, iron and coal. In immense tracts of grazing lands, and its extensive agricultural regions produce all the cereals in abundance, the yield per acre being in some instances the largest in the world.

Among the useful and valuable products of the Wehler State may be mentioned Oregon Kidney Tea, which has proved a boon to those afflicted with pain in the back and kidney difficulties. It is purely of vegetable composition and never fails. Sold by William Pittenger.
